EAGLES' COACHING STAFF

JAMES WILLIAM (TINY) TRIMBLE

HEAD COACH

Born May 29, 1918, McKeesport, Pa.

Big Jim or Tiny has set some kind of a record in coaching . . . a rookie assistant coach in the pro league in 1951, he was head coach his second year (1952) and wound up in a tie for second place . . . last season (1953) he brought the Eagles into second place undisputed, finishing up with a tremendous 42-27 triumph over the previously undefeated Cleveland Browns . . . Trimble, head coach for only two seasons, stands 50-50 with Cleveland's astute Paul Brown . . . he has beaten Brown twice and lost to him twice . . . for 1954 Trimble says he will be satisfied with nothing but the league championship . . . the big fellow exerts great influence over his players . . . he has earned the respect and admiration of the entire league albeit he is the youngest head coach in the league . . . Trimble joined the Eagles as assistant to the late Bo McMillin in 1951 right from the campus of Wichita University where he was athletic director and head coach . . . he remained as aide when Wayne Millner succeeded McMillin in October, 1951, and then stepped up to the front when Millner resigned in September of 1952 . . . as a player Trimble was top tackle for McMillin at Indiana from 1939 through 1941 . . . the next four years found Trimble in the U. S. Navy as commanding officer aboard an LST . . . he returned to assist McMillin at Indiana in 1945 and 1946 . . . then went to Wichita as line coach late in 1946 and became athletic director and head coach in 1948 . . . won letters in wrestling and football at Indiana . . . proud father of five children.

VICTOR LINDSKOG

ASSISTANT COACH

Born December 3, 1914, Roundup, Montana

Often called "Mr. Center," Vic Lindskog is enjoying a long-looked-for career, that of coaching . . . the 1954 season will be the third for Vic as assistant mentor of the Philadelphia Eagles, the club for which he played so brilliantly eight seasons . . . as a player he was rated the "greatest offensive center in football" . . . he is compiling a book on the T formation that when finished will be the last word and a coach's bible . . . Vic learned his football under the old master, Clark Shaughnessy at the University of Stanford where he was named All-America . . . he was a member of the famed Cinderella team that concluded an unbeaten season by winning the 1941 Rose Bowl championship . . . he returned to Stanford as a coach during spring practices from 1942 through 1946 . . . also, he was a wartime physical education instructor at Stanford . . . he is a handy guy with his dukes . . . he won the California State A. A. U. boxing title in 1938 . . . proud of a well-knit physique . . . Vic lives with his wife and young son in Drexel Hill.

CHARLES E. GAUER

ASSISTANT COACH

Born September 24, 1921, Chicago, Ill.

Charley also is a former Eagle player . . . he played offensive and defensive end for Birds in 1943, 1944 and 1945 and then entered Navy . . . Charley is chief scout as well as assistant coach . . . it is his job to scout the teams that play the Eagles . . . he makes a factual report at the weekly staff meetings . . . then the coaches plan the attack from his reports . . . Charley also gives a weekly lecture to the squad on what he has observed . . . Charley was a star end and blocking back for Colgate University in 1940, 1941 and 1942 . . . he coached the old Bethlehem Bulldogs in 1946, 1947 and 1948 and for the last five years has been assisting at Episcopal Academy . . . owns and operates gasoline and oil distributing center in Exton, Pa. . . . married and father of boy.

STEVE VAN BUREN

PERSONNEL DIRECTOR

Born December 28, 1920, Honduras

Wham Bam . . . Bayou Boy . . . Supersonic Steve Blockbuster . . . greatest ball carrier in the history of the National League has been sidelined by injury and is now the club's personnel director . . . the likeable, personable Steve is the Eagles' number one ambassador of good will . . . he has made countless appearances at banquets, luncheons, meetings, etc., and has proven just as valuable in the field of public relations as he did on the football field . . . plans to make another extended trip to nation's major colleges in search of new player talent . . . in partnership with Mike Kerns, another former Eagles' player, in used car agency . . . married and father of three children . . . makes his home in Penfield, suburb of Philadelphia.

VICTOR WILSON SEARS

ADVISORY COACH

Born March 4, 1918, Ashwood, Oregon

After 13 brilliant years as top tackle in National League, Vic has retired from active playing . . . he will act in advisory capacity at training camp and during the season . . . Vic will specialize with defensive tackles, teaching the rookies when they really need it . . . he came out of retirement in August, 1953, "to play just one more year" when Eagles' tackle situation became acute . . . Vic is sales engineer for Luscombe Engineering Company of North Wales . . . lives with wife Grace on 16-acre farm in Holicong, Pa.
